secure your ICT environment against modern day threats

IT security is top of mind for organisations of all sizes. And with good reason – it is a complex and ever-evolving threat. In 2017, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission revealed that 5,500 reports received from businesses about scams resulted in a total loss of $4.7 million.

To be competitive and drive growth for your business you need confidence knowing your technology platforms are safe and secure.

Retrac's Security Bundle will help you take control.

Underpinning Retrac's work is threat intelligence, which:

-  Provides broad visibility into the threat landscape
-  Delivers actionable insights
-  Enables proactive cybersecurity
-  Helps reduce costs and minimise risk

We're experts in monitoring the evolving threat landscape, establishing preventative measures, detecting threats and incident response and recovery.

key benefits:

Remove the element of surprise.

Plan for and fully secure your Cloud environment. Security Bundle gives you enhanced visibility and control so you can be as prepared as possible for the latest threats.

Pro-active, ongoing monitoring.

Ongoing audits provide you with periodic assessments of your network's vulnerability, compliance and configuration status. And we'll actively work to protect your business when new threats come out.

Discover your security score.

Get your score and learn more about your risk and how to mitigate with Retrac's security briefing.

Advanced threat monitoring.

Reduce insider and outsider threat risks and maximise data protection capabilities. We'll connect information about network and endpoint activity with factors such as IP addresses, URLs, and file details to provide a thorough view of variances that suggest threat activity.

Anti-Spam and Virus.

Defend users against sophisticated threats hidden in emails, attachments, and links. Anti-spam, anti-virus, and anti-phishing protection are deployed to prevent unwanted email and spam from reaching your network or users.

Rely on robust security policies.

Rest easy knowing your security policies are up to date to meet your business needs – and are working as they should. Multi-factor authentication provides greater control and transparency and 'complex' passwords help increase the security of your data.

Quick access to IT security experts.

We'll respond quickly, analyse the issue and eliminate any further risk.

Data protection.

With full visibility into data access and usage we can enforce data protection policies to prevent sensitive data loss. Security Bundle also allows you to label documents and restrict access through encryption.
